

Tips To Manage Your Moving Costs

- 1. Communicate openly with your movers before moving day. Mention your cost concerns and inquire about ways you can keep costs down.
- 2. Schedule your move strategically. Moving companies operate on a sliding scale based on supply and demand. Summer is the busiest, and most expensive time, as are the first and last Saturdays of every month. You'll save by scheduling a move on a Monday-Thursday during the middle of the month.
- 3. Be well prepared on moving day. Make sure you and your family members have packed as much stuff as possible. Because you pay for your mover's time, it's best to leave the work to them that day so they can keep a productive pace.
- 4. Budget for moving supplies - boxes, tape, pads, etc. - that typically account for 20% of your labor costs.
- 5. Avoid unexpected costs by explaining any possible challenges to the movers ahead of time.
