What makes Ava Art unique

offering personalized custom framing

Ava Art

Design

Personalized Service

Your designer will work with you one-on-one to create unique and innovative framing possibilities that reflect your personal style. You can be assured that your designer will follow your project through from design to delivery.

Flexible, On-Site Design

Our designers come to you. We offer on-site design in your home, office or at your photographer's studio. And we frame photos, artwork and objects.

Technology

A notebook computer completes our traveling design center. With our specialized software, we can easily create, save and retrieve your personal design information. Accurate pricing is calculated on the spot so that you know exactly how much you'll be spending.

Deliver

Convenience

We offer custom framing by appointment in your home or office. For your convenience, evening and weekend appointments are available. We accept checks and credit cards.

Pick Up and Delivery

We pick up your photographs, frame them and deliver them back to you.

Delight

Free Consultations

Our designers will come to your home or office to evaluate your project, no obligation.

Diverse Product Selection

Ava Art carries a wide selection of products. Whether your style is classic, contemporary, casual or formal, we have something appropriate.

Satisfaction Guaranteed

We guarantee that you will be completely satisfied with the artistic eye, attention to detail and reliable service of your professional designer.

"Our photographer, Lynne Damianos, highly recommended Kathy. It was nice having her come to the office rather than me going somewhere. It's the whole package with Kathy, the quality of the frames and how she presents them. I've worked with another framer and just the way Kathy packaged them was different. When Kathy delivered the frames to my office, she opened them one by one because she cared about how I felt about what she was giving me.

It's how she builds relationships...

It's how she builds relationships and how she communicates with the client that impresses me so much. The ability for her to be on site is the number one selling point. That's how Lynne said it would go and that's exactly how it went."

A Unique Concept in Custom Framing

© Gretje Ferguson

As an artist, Kathy Skarvan is driven by eye appeal and attention to details. She has a passion for people, gains energy from her environment and is motivated by the emotional reward she receives when others appreciate her work.

Since 2004, Kathy has been partnering with photographers so they can offer custom framing to their clients. Nothing showcases a photograph or piece of art like a custom frame, which is why photographers love recommending Kathy: they know she'll treat their clients' photos with respect and artistic integrity.

Because Kathy loves photography and is passionate about framing, it is easy for her to ensure an outstanding experience for her clients. At first, they are intrigued by the distinctive business model that brings the frame shop to them, but it is Kathy's spirit, her calm consultative nature and her ability to dramatically enhance the artwork that keeps them coming back.

Ava Art Custom Framing. Design. Deliver. Delight.

No more guessing, "Will this frame work in my home?" Ava Art comes to you and creates elegant designs that will enhance your photographs and complement your room, décor and lighting.

Just think—no more waiting around for an available clerk at a retail frame shop or trying to figure out if a frame will match your room's décor. With our "frame mobile," we bring the frame shop directly to your home or office, where we'll do on-site design, pick up and delivery.

"It was so easy to have her come to my home, show me samples of coordinating matting and frames and deliver finished pictures that were ready to hang. I would recommend Kathy to anyone for her expertise and professionalism."

— Beth Lindstrom, customer

Ava Art has the expertise to offer a full range of framing services. We're pleased to frame other items, such as objects, and provide an overall harmonious look and feel.
